The TE ___ Teacher's Edition
Choir Director's Manual
And Parent's Guide for
Volumes I and II
Tremendous Benefits in the
New Expanded TE

- Loaded with activities and teaching tips for each song
- Emphasizes Music Reading Skills for songs in unison, 2-part and 3-part in a variety of styles
- Coordinates activities for students, parents and teachers with the children's interactive companion books (see the info on the Children's Interactive Books in this brochure) Great companion series for existing music curricula in your school, church or home.
- In addition to musical development, other skills are expanded such as:
 - Vocabulary
 - Critical Thinking
 - Character Building
 - Great Literature Awareness(such as The King James Bible)
 - Journal Writing
 - Theater-Acting Skills

Special Note: In Volumes I and II, each song will have a culminating activity, a musical focus and a means through which the skills mentioned above can be developed. Many of these can help young students prepare for the standardized tests that are required by public and private schools, especially in the areas of vocabulary, writing and critical thinking. Kids can receive "training" and still have fun.

The Train Up A Child
Interactive Book For Students,
Parents and Teachers

The Interactive Books found in the class sets provide the following benefits:

- Songs with children's voice parts only
- Activities for students, parents and teachers coordinated through the TE-Choir Director's Manual-Parent's Guide
- Opportunities for Critical Thinking
- Opportunities for Vocabulary Expansion
- Opportunities to learn Bible Stories and build Character based on the spiritual philosophies of each unique home.
- PARENTAL INVOLVEMENT is essential.
- Opportunities to develop music reading skill and general musicianship.

Special Note: The Train Up A Child Series also makes an excellent companion to existing music curricula in your public and private schools. - Study of the King James Bible as great literature
- Singing of African-American Spirituals and Gospel music as ethnic studies of an important culture in our Great American History

Future volumes of this series will be dedicated to specific academic subjects such as math, science, social studies, politics (singing about well known political figures) history, world music and many other topics. The sky is the limit.

Your suggestions are welcome for age-appropriate and topic-appropriate songs for our young people. Feel free to e mail us with your thoughts.
